The Boers Get Self Government, All Prisoners Will Be Returned and the Transvaal Relieved of Paying the War Debt.

London, June 2.—Demand for accommodation in the house of commons this afternoon to hear the statement of the first lord of the treasury and the government leader, A. J. Balfour, was unprecedented. Mr. Balfour arose at 2:40 p. m. and announced the terms of peace in South Africa as follows:

The burghers forces will lay down arms and hand over all rifles, guns and munition of war in their possession, or under their control.

All prisoners will be brought back as soon as possible to South Africa without loss of liberty or property.

No action will be taken against the prisoners, except where they are guilty of breaches of the rules of war.

Dutch is to be taught in the schools, if desired by the parents, and used in courts if necessary.

Rifles are allowed for protection.

Military occupation is to be withdrawn as soon as possible and self-government substituted.

There is to be no tax on the Transvaal to pay the cost of the war.

The sum of £3,000,000 is to be provided for the re-stocking of Boer farms.

Rebels are liable to trial, according to the law of the colony to which they belong.

The rank and file are not to be disfranchised for life.

Death penalty will not be inflicted.

With exception of Ireland practically the whole of the united kingdom is in holiday attire in honor of the conclusion of peace in South Africa. The streets are everywhere thronged with people who every now and then relieve their overstrung nerves to outburst of hoarse cheering, or by braying penny trumpets.

The tone of King Edward's message to the people and the absence therein of any note of exultation seems, however, to have set a good example and while giving free vent to their own satisfaction the British are showing small desire to crow over the British late enemies.

Flags and bunting are displayed, church bells are rung, salutes are fired and there is general jubilation on all sides.

Crowds of suburbanites poured into London and converged towards the usual centers, Mansion house, Royal Exchange, Trafalgar square, etc., and quickly bedecked themselves with tiny flags, button and badges.

At intervals some enthusiastic persons start singing "God Save the King" which is taken up by happy throngs and is heard for miles through neighboring streets from one end of the metropolis to the other.

With the announcement of the cessation of war in South Africa immense crowds gathered in various portions of London and celebrated as London has not celebrated before.

There was great jubilation in the Stock Exchange, but little business was transacted.

Later in the day the levee at St. James palace and the cabinet meeting in Downing street attracted an immense crowd.

Thousands of people waited arrival of cabinet ministers and scenes which greeted favorites has not been equalled in many years.

Many of the ministers wore court dresses on account of having to be present at the levee, which added to the attractiveness of the occasion.

Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, came in for special attention from the masses. The police were unable to hold the people in bounds and crowds surged around Chamberlain's carriage, hurrahing and shouting congratulations until the colonial secretary escaped within the building.

On the adjournment of the cabinet meeting crowds repaired to Buckingham palace and St. James palace and further relieved their feelings by cheering the king and other notabilities, who attended the levee, at which the United States ambassador, Joseph H. Choate, and all members of the embassy and number of special coronation envoys were present.

Telegrams received from all parts of provinces testify to extreme joy felt by all classes at the conclusion of war.

At many places magistrates discharged all prisoners charged with light offenses.

A singular fact is that the first news of the conclusion of peace were received at Windsor Castle by telephone from Berlin and Paris.

Many of the provincial exchanges closed at lunch time and children at schools, everywhere were dismissed.

There is no further news from South

Africa, but the opinion is expressed in official quarters that Commandant Fouché and other Boer leaders in Cape Colony, who did not attend Vereeniging conference, will come in of their own accord.

Pope Pleased Over Peace.

Rome, June 2.—On receipt of news of the conclusion of peace in South Africa, the pope expressed his joy, and added: "I hope to close my eyes on a world-wide peace."

THE ORDER OBEYED.

Engineers, Firemen and Pumpmen Quit Work About Hazelton.

Hazelton, June 2.—There has been almost unanimous response in Hazelton district on the part of engineers, firemen and pump runners to the strike order of the executive board of United Mine Workers.

All the companies, whose men deserted their posts, say they promptly filled the places of the strikers with non-union men brought here from Philadelphia, and their agents say the operation of pumps will not be interfered with by reason of the strike. Everything is quiet in the region thus far.

There will be a special meeting of the Clerks' Protective association to urge local merchants to offer their sympathy and support to the strikers. The merchants will also meet. It is stated resolutions will be adopted condemning all men who furnish supplies to special officers and non-union men, hundreds of whom are stationed at every colliery.

In order to avert trouble the coal companies will keep their special officers at the mines until the strike is over. The situation is so acute the presence of these men in the city, especially at night, is liable to be the cause of an outbreak.

Colliery clerks who refused to take charge of fire or pumps have been discharged.

Trouble Anticipated.

Scranton, Pa., June 2.—In anticipation of possible trouble this week, resulting from the places of striking engineers, firemen and pumpmen being filled by other men, Sheriff Charles H. Shadt Sunday sent his deputies through Lackawanna county posting notices to the effect that all persons who trespass upon the property of the coal companies or commit any depredations of any kind or in any manner interfere with the persons employed thereon, will be dealt with strictly according to law.

A canvass made Sunday gives indication that there will be few engineers and not many more pump runners who will obey the strike order. The firemen, it is thought, will generally will not go on strike.

Conflicting Reports at Wilkesbarre.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 2.—The strike of engineers, firemen and pumpmen employed in anthracite and collieries for eight hours a day at present wages was inaugurated at 7 o'clock this morning.

There are conflicting reports as to the number of men that quit work. Mine workers' officials claim fully 90 per cent of the men obeyed the strike order, but the companies dispute their figures. The company officials also say the places of the strikers have been filled.

Quiet About Shamokin.

Shamokin, Pa., June 2.—The miners have made no demonstrations at any of the 19 collieries within a radius of 12 miles of this place, other than to collect in groups on public roads endeavoring to learn whether the pumpmen, firemen and engineers would report for work. At least 95 per cent of three classes of workmen went on a strike.

FIGHT WITH YAQUIS

Forty Indians Were Killed and the Mexican Troops Lost Fifteen Men.

Tucson, A. T., June 2.—A battalion of the Mexican army, commanded by General Torres, fought a desperate battle with 300 Yaqui Indians on Thursday at El Tanque, a small place not far from Hermosillo. A messenger arriving at Hermosillo brought only meagre details of the fight.

Forty Yaquis were killed and 80 wounded. The Mexican army lost 15 men. The Yaquis escaped toward Mazatlan mountains, leaving their dead.

A large supply of ammunition and arms were captured.

Excitement is running high in Hermosillo and business is practically suspended. Many of the merchants are joining the army.

Notes from Austin.

Austin, June 2.—The Texas Telegraph and Telephone company of Austin has its amended charter extending its field of operations.

Dr. Joe Gilbert of Bastrop, who was appointed surgeon of the Confederate home, succeeding Dr. L. D. Hill, has assumed charge.

The railroad commission has decided the crossing controversy between the El Paso Terminal and Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railway. The commission decided that a grade crossing with interlocking device shall be placed where the El Paso terminal crosses the other railroad.

All the world has doubtless received the news of peace in South Africa with satisfaction. Now, then, if we could have peace in the Philippines, all would be well.

Prof. Angelo Heilprin has been up to the top of Mount Pelee and took a leisurely two hours survey of the crater, getting off with no greater injury than a mud bath.

The grand jury has been stirring things up mightily at El Paso. They have returned indictments against 240 gamblers and dance hall keepers. The statement is made in the grand jury report that El Paso contains 600 gamblers and 96 saloons.

The Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad is being built at the rate of a mile a day and the prediction is made by Vice President W. W. Sylvester that the line will be completed and in operation between Port Stillwell, Mexico and Kansas City within two and a half years, thus shortening the route from Kansas City to Honolulu and the Philippines 700 miles by land. Mr. Sylvester is now on his way to Chihuahua, Mexico.

Within recent years the United States have been short on volcanoes, having nothing in that line but a few old craters and lava-beds. The United States Geological Survey now reports that our Philippine colonies contain a great many volcanoes but that on account of the hostility of the natives, only "forty-nine of the eruptive mountains were located." There are several volcanoes near Manila and "Mayon is said to be the most beautiful volcanic cone in the world," and Apo, one of the tallest, being 10,761 feet high. Galung Gung, in 1822, destroyed 114 villages. As soon as we can conquer a few more islands of the sea we will lead all nations in volcanoes as in almost everything else.—Farm and Ranch.

Chicago, July 2.—The various railway lines interested have united in granting to teachers and others of the southern states who may attend the annual convention of the National Education association in Minneapolis next July, an extension of tickets for return at any date before October 1. The limit for return in all other sections of the United States is September 1.

Fifty Years Each. Corsicana, Tex., June 2.—Milton Grace, colored, pleaded guilty to four cases of robbery Saturday and was sentenced to 50 years in the penitentiary. The offenses to which he declares his guilt were committed last winter, three men being robbed at the point of a pistol, and one locked in a vault after being robbed.

Child Labor Agitation. New York, June 2.—In order to impress upon the public the iniquity of child labor, the organized bodies of New Jersey will exhibit throughout the state 12 children whose ages range from eight to ten years, taken from the glass factories at Minatola.

Girl Accidentally Shot. San Antonio, Tex., June 2.—Maria Garcia, a 12-year-old girl, was accidentally shot by a 5-year-old boy who was playing with a carbine Sunday. The wound is probably fatal.

CRATER PEEPED INTO

Prof. Heilprin the First to See the Fiery Furnace.

THE RISK OF HIS LIFE

He Discovered the Crater's Opening to Be Five Hundred Feet Long and One Hundred and Fifty Feet Wide and in Eruption.

Fort de France, June 2.—The National Geographical society has scored a great triumph. Prof. Angelo Heilprin ascended to the top of the crater of Mount Pelee Saturday in company with two guides and Mr. Leadbetter. While on the summit several violent explosions occurred, but not knowing the dangers surrounding him, Professor Heilprin spent a long time taking careful observations. Looking down the crater he found a huge cinder cone. The crater opening is a vast crevasse 500 feet long and 150 feet wide. While engaged in this task the lives of the members of the expedition were continually in danger, and one particular violent shock covered Prof. Heilprin from head to foot with viscid matter.

He persisted, however, and found, as had been suspected, that there were three separate vents of the volcanic matter. Meanwhile Mont Pelee, seemed to resent the intrusion of man into her awful territory, belched out huge volumes of steam, ashes and boiling hot mud.

Professor Heilprin made the important discovery that the crater of Faliz had an eruption at the same time as the summit crater and effects precisely the same matter. Both craters showed a new phenomenon during the professor's visit when mud was thrown up in high columns, while, heretofore, the mud has bubbled or boiled out and flowed downward in huge streams. There is reason to fear that great damage may result from the outbursts of this mud to the rich plantations still uninjured.

Professor Heilprin's journey down the side of the mountain was fully as perilous as the ascent.

The expedition had been especially organized by United States Consul Ayne and Professor Heilprin and was led by the latter.

Mr. Clerc furnishes the following details of Prof. Heilprin's ascent:

The party proceeded on mules to an altitude of 700 metres, the ancient line of vegetation. From this point Prof. Heilprin continued on foot, leaving the mules that had carried him up the steep hogback to the tree line. Upon reaching the site of Lake Palmiste the professor found it completely dried up. He crossed the bed of the lake and continued up on the gently rising slope to the crater. Formerly the edge of the crater was a high bluff, or shoulder. This the explorer found had fallen into the great crater, and he thinks this change probably occurred at the time of the great explosion of May 20. This is the first important topographic alteration in Mont Pelee which has been noted and verified.

Prof. Heilprin arrived at the edge of the summit crater at 1:30 o'clock and remained there for over two hours. When he returned to Vive he resembled a statue of mud. The weight of ashes and mud he carried on his person, the horrible atmosphere he breathed and the fearful difficulties he encountered reduced him to a condition of extreme fatigue, notwithstanding he ascended Mont Pelee from the most accessible and easiest side. Prof. Heilprin may return to Fort de France to-day if he has sufficiently recovered to do so.

Killed by a Street Car.

Houston, June 2.—Joe E. Besterlo, about 20 years old, while riding a bicycle, fell in front of a Congress line street car Sunday night and was killed. The bicycle had no light and Officer Brennan was after him for not having his wheel lighted. He was a stenographer and came here from Brownsville, where his people live. He was badly cut by the wheel and trucks and died in a few minutes. Justice Matthews held the inquest.

Hot Winds Kill Cotton.

Bruceville, Tex., June 2.—This section was visited on the night of the 30th by a strong wind. Many houses in the country were blown from their foundations and crops were damaged. In many places the cotton was killed and farmers are again replanting. Between 2 and 3 o'clock in the night a hot wind blew for about fifteen minutes and many farmers contend that this wind killed the young cotton.

All the world has doubtless received the news of peace in South Africa with satisfaction. Now, then, if we could have peace in the Philippines, all would be well.

Prof. Angelo Heilprin has been up to the top of Mount Pelee and took a leisurely two hours survey of the crater, getting off with no greater injury than a mud bath.

The grand jury has been stirring things up mightily at El Paso. They have returned indictments against 240 gamblers and dance hall keepers. The statement is made in the grand jury report that El Paso contains 600 gamblers and 96 saloons.

The Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad is being built at the rate of a mile a day and the prediction is made by Vice President W. W. Sylvester that the line will be completed and in operation between Port Stillwell, Mexico and Kansas City within two and a half years, thus shortening the route from Kansas City to Honolulu and the Philippines 700 miles by land. Mr. Sylvester is now on his way to Chihuahua, Mexico.

Within recent years the United States have been short on volcanoes, having nothing in that line but a few old craters and lava-beds. The United States Geological Survey now reports that our Philippine colonies contain a great many volcanoes but that on account of the hostility of the natives, only "forty-nine of the eruptive mountains were located." There are several volcanoes near Manila and "Mayon is said to be the most beautiful volcanic cone in the world," and Appo, one of the tallest, being 10,761 feet high. Galung Gung, in 1822, destroyed 114 villages. As soon as we can conquer a few more islands of the sea we will lead all nations in volcanoes as in almost everything else.—Farm and Ranch.

CRATER PEEPED INTO

Prof. Heilprin the First to See the Fiery Furnace.

THE RISK OF HIS LIFE

He Discovered the Crater's Opening to Be Five Hundred Feet Long and One Hundred and Fifty Feet Wide and in Eruption.

Fort de France, June 2.—The National Geographical society has scored a great triumph. Prof. Angelo Heilprin ascended to the top of the crater of Mount Pelee Saturday in company with two guides and Mr. Leadbetter. While on the summit several violent explosions occurred, but not knowing the dangers surrounding him, Professor Heilprin spent a long time taking careful observations. Looking down the crater he found a huge cinder cone. The crater opening is a vast crevasse 500 feet long and 150 feet wide. While engaged in this task the lives of the members of the expedition were continually in danger, and one particular violent shock covered Prof. Heilprin from head to foot with viscid matter. He persisted, however, and found, as had been suspected, that there were three separate vents of the volcanic matter. Meanwhile Mont Pelee, seemed to resent the intrusion of man into her awful territory, belched out huge volumes of steam, ashes and boiling hot mud.

Professor Heilprin made the important discovery that the crater of Falliz had an eruption at the same time as the summit crater and effects precisely the same matter. Both craters showed a new phenomenon during the professor's visit when mud was thrown up in high columns, while, heretofore, the mud has bubbled or boiled out and flowed downward in huge streams. There is reason to fear that great damage may result from the outbursts of this mud to the rich plantations still uninjured.

The expedition had been especially organized by United States Consul Ayme and Professor Heilprin and was led by the latter. Mr. Clerc furnishes the following details of Prof. Heilprin's ascent: The party proceeded on mules to an altitude of 700 metres, the ancient line of vegetation. From this point Prof. Heilprin continued on foot, leaving the mules that had carried him up the steep hogback to the tree line. Upon reaching the site of Lake Palmiste the professor found it completely dried up. He crossed the bed of the lake and continued up on the gently rising slope to the crater. Formerly the edge of the crater was a high bluff, or shoulder. This the explorer found had fallen into the great crater, and he thinks this change probably occurred at the time of the great explosion of May 20. This is the first important topographic alteration in Mont Pelee which has been noted and verified.

Prof. Heilprin arrived at the edge of the summit crater at 1:30 o'clock and remained there for over two hours. When he returned to Vive he resembled a statue of mud. The weight of ashes and mud he carried on his person, the horrible atmosphere he breathed and the fearful difficulties he encountered reduced him to a condition of extreme fatigue, notwithstanding he ascended Mont Pelee from the most accessible and easiest side. Prof. Heilprin may return to Fort de France to-day if he has sufficiently recovered to do so.

Killed by a Street Car. Houston, June 2.—Joe E. Besterlo, about 20 years old, while riding a bicycle, fell in front of a Congress line street car Sunday night and was killed. The bicycle had no light and Officer Brennan was after him for not having his wheel lighted. He was a stenographer and came here from Brownsville, where his people live. He was badly cut by the wheel and trucks and died in a few minutes. Justice Matthews held the inquest.

Hot Winds Kill Cotton. Bruceville, Tex., June 2.—This section was visited on the night of the 30th by a strong wind. Many houses in the country were blown from their foundations and crops were damaged. In many places the cotton was killed and farmers are again replanting. Between 2 and 3 o'clock in the night a hot wind blew for about fifteen minutes and many farmers contend that this wind killed the young cotton.

Hotel President Dead. Cincinnati, O., June 2.—A. G. Corree, aged 61 years, president and principal owner of the Grand hotel and the Gibson house in this city, died here after an illness of three months.

PEACE BEEN DECLARED

War in South Africa Brought to a Close at Last.

TERMS AGREED TO.

Signatures of Kitchener, Milner and Boer Delegates to Peace Conference Are Attached to Agreement—England Elated.

London, June 2.—Peace has been declared after nearly two years and eight months of a war which tried the British empire to its uttermost and wiped the Boers from the list of nations.

The war has come to an end with Lord Kitchener's announcement from Pretoria that he, Lord Milner and the Boer delegates signed "terms of surrender."

This announcement had been anticipated for several days and definitely forecasted in these dispatches; but its receipt Sunday afternoon took the nation by surprise, as everybody had confidently believed that the house of commons would hear the first news. The edge of anticipation with which Great Britain awaited the promised statement in the house of commons from Balfour, the government leader, was still further dulled by the following message from King Edward to his people, which was issued after midnight:

"The king has received the welcome news of the cessation of hostilities in South Africa with infinite satisfaction, and his majesty trusts that peace may speedily be followed by the restoration of prosperity in his new dominions and that the feelings necessarily engendered by war will give place to earnest co-operation on the part of his majesty's South African subjects in promoting the welfare of their common country."

How greatly King Edward's insistence that peace in South Africa be secured prior to his coronation influenced the present agreement will probably not be known until the private memories of the present regime are given to the public.

According to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Utrecht, Holland, Mr. Kruger was informed shortly after 9 o'clock Sunday night that peace had been declared. He had been asleep, and upon the announcement said: "My God! Is it possible?"

Mr. Kruger and his entourage, the dispatch continues, hope to be permitted to return to the Transvaal. This, however, is quite unlikely.

The news which Great Britain was so anxiously awaiting came characteristically on an entirely pacific and uninteresting Sunday afternoon when London presents a deserted appearance. Very late Saturday night a dispatch was received from Lord Kitchener, in which he said the Boer delegates were coming to Pretoria, that they had accepted Great Britain's terms and that they were prepared to sign terms of surrender.

Mr. Broderick, the war secretary, personally communicated this message to King Edward, who was at Buckingham palace. But the government declined to take any chances, and nothing concerning the receipt of this message was allowed to leak out. At about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the war office received the following dispatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Saturday, May 31, 11:15 p. m.:

"A document concerning terms of surrender was signed here this evening at half past three by all the Boer representatives, as well as by Lord Milner and myself."

The clerk on duty at the war office transmitted this message to Buckingham palace, where King Edward was lunching. At about 5 o'clock word was received permitting the publication of this message, and the small notice which was stuck up outside the war office consisted of a copy of Lord Kitchener's cablegram. A similar notice was put outside of the colonial office. Beyond these two skimpy bits of paper, London knew nothing of the great event. In the clubs, the hotels and newspaper offices, which were almost all deserted, the momentous news was ticked out on the tape. Then, like wildfire, at about 6 o'clock London London awakened to the fact that the South African war was over. The infants of the East End flocked to the mansion house, the mecca of the boisterously patriotic, just in time to see the lord mayor of London, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, come to a balcony and announce that the terms of surrender had been signed in South Africa, in which he expressed his hope that London would show its appreciation of the good news by behaving itself decently and in an orderly manner, and such was the case.

While the general public celebrated the news of peace in the streets, society was equally joyous, although, perhaps not quite so demonstrative. Many references were made to the coincidence of the declaration of peace in South Africa with the "glorious first of June" ever memorable in Great Britain's history by reason of Howe's victory over the French fleet in 1794.

At the fashionable hotels and restaurants patriotic airs were played, and those present repeatedly stood up and cheered when the bands played "God Save the King." Among the people at the Carlton hotel were a good many Americans who, good naturedly, joined in the enthusiasm.

In the meanwhile the news had been conveyed to most of the churches, whose bells clanged out the message of peace.

Preachers stopped in their prayers and their sermons to read Lord Kitchener's laconic message to their congregations. At St. Paul's cathedral the bishop of Stepney made this announcement and impressively prefaced the reading of Lord Kitchener's message by saying: "God has been pleased to answer our prayers and give us the blessings of peace."

Dr. Parker electrified 3000 listeners at the City Temple by suddenly interrupting the dispatches received at the war office, to which he had added an expression of a hope that it would mean peace in England and that there would no longer be anything heard of pro-Boers and pro-Britons.

The archbishop of Canterbury will shortly appoint a day of national thanksgiving in which Cardinal Vaughan will join.

The dispatches received here from South Africa describe the rejoicing in all the principal towns there which followed the announcement of peace yesterday and say that Monday has been proclaimed a general holiday.

In an editorial on the news from South Africa, the Times points out that there can be no treaty, but merely as Lord Kitchener names it, "a document containing terms of peace."

The Times is confident that the terms offered General Botha a year ago have been virtually maintained. The newspapers are equally certain that the interest of the loyal colonists whether of Dutch or of British blood, have not been overlooked in the settlement.

The Times pays a tribute to the sagacious conciliatory diplomacy of Lord Salisbury and Lord Lansdowne, the foreign secretary who has built up an amicable understanding, it declares, with the United States and which has done so much to sober the reflections of less friendly states.

Celebration at Montreal.

Montreal, June 1.—The Associated Press dispatch conveying the welcome news of the end of the South African war was sent to all the churches in the city and it was read at the evening services. The congregations sang "God Save the King" and the national anthem was also played on the chimes for hours.

At St. Johns.

St. Johns, N. B., June 2.—In nearly all the churches here Sunday night Lord Kitchener's cablegram was the text of sermons of thanksgiving or the keynote of a hymn of praise for the end of long struggle in South Africa. The rejoicing was general.

At Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., June 2.—The news of peace in South Africa reached Halifax early Sunday evening and quickly spread through the city. Great enthusiasm was manifested. The pastors of all the churches announced the news from their pulpits and at the close of the evening services prayers of thanksgiving were offered, the national anthem was sung and church bells were rung.

Boxer Insurrection Renewed.

Victoria, B. C., June 2.—Advices have been received by the steamer Claveling that the different missions at Pekin have been informed that at southwest Chi Li a new boxer insurrection has broken out, led by Go Chi Hing, who killed his wife and family, and others emulated the example before the campaign commenced. The boxers first murdered a French missionary and later killed a Belgian priest and fifty Chinese officials engaged in collecting taxes were killed. A church was destroyed at Wei Hien, where a native missionary was killed and a large number of converts were slaughtered. Troops were sent against the boxers who defeated them.

The rebels are credited with a program of overrunning Honan and Shan Tung and then making for Pekin. They are well armed.

Woman Sentenced for Flirting.

New York, June 2.—Police Justice Marshall of Mount Vernon has sentenced Alice Myers, a young woman of that place, to 60 days in the county jail for flirting with a builder of Port Chester, by telephone. Several months ago the builder met Miss Myers. She looked up his telephone number and was, his wife says, continually ringing up his house and asking him to meet her. Usually the telephone was answered by his wife, who exhausted every effort to find out her husband's admirer's name.

Miss Myers' attorneys secured her release on a writ of habeas corpus.

The in-laws of the East End flocked to the Mansion house, the mecca of the boisterously patriotic, just in time to see the lord mayor of London, Sir Joseph C. Dimdale, come to a balcony and announce that the terms of surrender had been signed in South Africa, in which he expressed his hope that London would show its appreciation of the good news by behaving itself decently and in an orderly manner, and such was the case.

While the general public celebrated the news of peace in the streets, society was equally joyous, although, perhaps not quite so demonstrative. Many references were made to the coincidence of the declaration of peace in South Africa with the "glorious first of June" ever memorable in Great Britain's history by reason of Howe's victory over the French fleet in 1794.

At the fashionable hotels and restaurants patriotic airs were played, and those present repeatedly stood up and cheered when the bands played "God Save the King." Among the people at the Carlton hotel were a good many Americans who, good naturedly, joined in the enthusiasm. In the meanwhile the news had been conveyed to most of the churches, whose bells clanged out the message of peace.

Preachers stopped in their prayers and their sermons to read Lord Kitchener's laconic message to their congregations. At St. Paul's cathedral the bishop of Stepney made this announcement and impressively prefaced the reading of Lord Kitchener's message by saying: "God has been pleased to answer our prayers and give us the blessings of peace."

Dr. Parker electrified 3000 listeners at the City Temple by suddenly interrupting the dispatches received at the war office, to which he had added an expression of a hope that it would mean peace in England and that there would no longer be anything heard of pro-Boers and pro-Britons.

The archbishop of Canterbury will shortly appoint a day of national thanksgiving in which Cardinal Vaughan will join.

The dispatches received here from South Africa describe the rejoicing in all the principal towns there which followed the announcement of peace yesterday and say that Monday has been proclaimed a general holiday.

In an editorial on the news from South Africa, the Times points out that there can be no treaty, but merely as Lord Kitchener names it, "a document containing terms of peace."

The Times is confident that the terms offered General Botha a year ago have been virtually maintained. The newspapers are equally certain that the interest of the loyal colonists whether of Dutch or of British blood, have not been overlooked in the settlement.

The Times pays a tribute to the sagacious conciliatory diplomacy of Lord Salisbury and Lord Lansdowne, the foreign secretary who has built up an amicable understanding, it declares, with the United States and which has done so much to sober the reflections of less friendly states.

Celebration at Montreal.

Montreal, June 1.—The Associated Press dispatch conveying the welcome news of the end of the South African war was sent to all the churches in the city and it was read at the evening services. The congregations sang "God Save the King" and the national anthem was also played on the chimes for hours.

At St. Johns.

St. Johns, N. B., June 2.—In nearly all the churches here Sunday night Lord Kitchener's cablegram was the text of sermons of thanksgiving or the keynote of a hymn of praise for the end of long struggle in South Africa. The rejoicing was general.

At Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., June 2.—The news of peace in South Africa reached Halifax early Sunday evening and quickly spread through the city. Great enthusiasm was manifested. The pastors of all the churches announced the news from their pulpits and at the close of the evening services prayers of thanksgiving were offered, the national anthem was sung and church bells were rung.

Boxer Insurrection Renewed.

Victoria, B. C., June 2.—Advices have been received by the steamer Claveling that the different missions at Pekin have been informed that at southwest Chi Li a new boxer insurrection has broken out, led by Go Chi Hing, who killed his wife and family, and others emulated the example before the campaign commenced. The boxers first murdered a French missionary and later killed a Belgian priest and fifty Chinese officials engaged in collecting taxes were killed. A church was destroyed at Wei Hien, where a native missionary was killed and a large number of converts were slaughtered. Troops were sent against the boxers who defeated them.

The rebels are credited with a program of overrunning Honan and Shan Tung and then making for Pekin. They are well armed.

Woman Sentenced for Flirting.

New York, June 2.—Police Justice Marshall of Mount Vernon has sentenced Alice Myers, a young woman of that place, to 60 days in the county jail for flirting with a builder of Port Chester, by telephone. Several months ago the builder met Miss Myers. She looked up his telephone number and was, his wife says, continually ringing up his house and asking him to meet her. Usually the telephone was answered by his wife, who exhausted every effort to find out her husband's admirer's name.

Miss Myers' attorneys secured her release on a writ of habeas corpus.

Fort Worth, Tex., June 3.—Jeff Van, the hackdriver, has been convicted of the murder of Police Officer Grimes, which occurred several weeks ago. The jury assessed the penalty at death.
